

UCLA School of Law
Summary of Diversity-related Activities
March 2016

Degree or Certificate Programs

Undergraduate

None

Graduate

2 Joint Doctoral/JD Programs

Courses

Undergraduate

1 course

Graduate

41 courses

Faculty and Researchers

30 faculty members and researchers

Faculty expertise includes civil rights, disability non-discrimination, sexual orientation and identity non-discrimination, tribal law, hate crimes, immigration law, human rights, social justice, public interest lawyering, critical race theory, and feminist legal theory.

Examples of Service

The UCLA School of Law is committed to public service and houses numerous research and outreach initiatives related to diversity and hosts many seminars, lectures, and workshops for policymakers and the public. Research initiatives include the Center for Law & Economics, the Critical Race Studies program, the David J. Epstein Program in Public Interest Law and Policy, the Emmett Institute on Climate Change & the Environment, the Globalization and Labor Standards Project, the Health & Human Rights Law Project, the Native Nations Law & Policy Center, the Sanela Diana Jenkins Human Rights Project, the Transnational Program on Criminal Justice, and the Williams Institute on Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity Law and Public Policy.

UCLA School of Law: Diversity-related Programs

Department	Title of Program	Degree or Certificate	Undergraduate or Graduate	Additional Notes	Program Website
Law	African American Studies Interdepartmental M.A./Law J.D.	MA/JD	Graduate	Concurrent Degrees
Law	American Indian Studies Interdepartmental MA/Law JD	MA/JD	Graduate	Concurrent Degrees	