Examples of Service

The UCLA Anderson School of Management is home to the Riordan Scholars Program, providing leadership and management training to diverse individuals all over the country through mentors, educational workshops, and community service. The Anderson School also provides training to Head Start executives to strengthen their entrepreneurial, management, and leadership skills. In addition, the School houses the Entrepreneurship Bootcamp for Veterans with Disabilities (EBV), providing experiential training in entrepreneurship and small business management to soldiers, sailors, airmen, and marines disabled as a result of their service supporting operations Enduring Freedom and Iraqi Freedom.
